PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY.

DR. WITHROW, THE LIBERAL CAN-DIDATE, CHOSEN MODERATOR.

The Retiring Moderator Proposes to Set-tic the Dissensions in the Church by Arbitration, but Calls on the Assembly to SARATOGA, May 21.-The 108th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church opened its sessions here to-day in the First Presbyterian Church with the usual sermon from the retiring Moderator. Six times has the Assembly had its seat in this city and in this church, fr being the rule of the body to gather here when no other city is offered. Nearly 700 commisstoners, half ministers and half elders, occupied seats on the floor of the auditorium, and as many more ladies and visitors were crowded to. On the platform were seated those who were to assist the Moderator, the Rev. Dr. Robert Russell Booth of New York, in the service, and in the rear of the pulpit was the choir, greatly augmented from the local choirs for this occasion. The service, according to the Book of Discipline of the Presbyterian Church began promptly at 11 o'clock.

Dr. Booth's sermon occupied more than an hour in the delivery. His theme was Christian Unity. After examining the scriptural view of this unity, which, he said, is a union of believers only, and showing the futility of the efforts in the past to accomplish church unity by establishing an organic union, he referred at length to the dissensions in the Presbyterian Church. This Church, he said, was established upon solid scriptural grounds, and there were qualities of good, inherent in its doctrine and polity, which properly call for the loyal respect and earnest support of all who are associated within it by the piedge of a faith plighted to God and to man. On this point Dr. Booth spoke with warmth of the position of the Preabyterian Church in reference to the Word of God.

That which of old was written in the first chapter of the Confession of Faith concerning 'the infallible truth and divine authority' of the whole Word of God has been reiterated and reaffirmed as the profound conviction of this Church, speaking and acting as an organic whole, in the light of all the hostile criticism and all the calm inquiry which this latest age of intellectual life has spread around her. Just as little as she faltered in this faith when half century ago Prof. Bauer and the school of Tubingen declared the mythical origin of the holy (rospels does she falter now that a new attack assails 'the truthfulness of the sacred history and the faithful witness of miracle and prophecy.' The record of this Church upon this ubject has been made in lines which none can misinterpret, and it is worth our while to pause and recall it at this time." He quoted the words of the late Henry B. Smith of Union Seminary as an expression of the views of the Church on inspiration of the Bible at the time of the reunion of the old and new schools. "The testimony of Dr. Smith to the plenary inspiration of the Scriptures," said he,

"was accepted without a dissenting voice, was the precursor and the basis of the great reution movement; and the constructive statement in the plan of union was in strict accordance with.
Each affirmative response from that day till this has conditioned every act of ordination in this Church: "Do you believe the Scriptures of the Old and the New Testaments to be the Word of God, the only infallible rule of faith and practice?" This Church is therefore bound in honor to maintain the traditional view of Holy Scripture. To her it is as true to-day, as ever in the past, that this book, the Bible, so far from being "full of human errors, contradictions, fables, legends, from which with utmost officulty the word of God left to be sifted out, is in all its parts inspired, historically true, inerrent as it came from God."

Dr. Booth upheld in equally elequent words the theological system of the Church, the much abused Westminster Confession, the held that this confession, which the office bearers of the Presbyterian Church were sworn to maintain and defend, contained a system of doctrine that was a distinct advance on the presentation of truth made by the Nicene and Apostolic creeds.
He lear of the Church were sworn to maintain and the presbyterian Church and its methods of evangelization.

the Presbyterian Church and its methods of evangelization.

Referring to the doctrinal strifes and contentions which have disturbed the Church for the past six rears, Dr. Booth called upon the Commissioners to stand fast for the standards, polity, government, and methods of evangelies; work of the Church. He then proposed a method of bringing the doctrinal troubles of the Church to an end. He pleaded for arbitration, for brotherly conference, for mutual concessions, for an amicable adjustment of the contentions in the Church over doctrines, over Biblical interpretation, and over theological standards.

tions in the Church over doctrines over Biblical interpretation, and over theological standards.

"It adds to the painfulness of the present condition." he said, "that no real effort has hitherto been put forth to secure a removal of these misunderstandings by brotherly conference and that arbitration of differences which we have so highly approved as a method in international controversies. I venture, then, to submit the inquiry, irregular though it be at this point in our proceedings, whether it would not be possible to secure during the present meeting of the Assembly some kind of brotherly conference which might avail to throw light upon our present perplexities and afford some clear indications as to what is desired in the way of an extension of Presbyterian liberty. It may be a dream, it may be a delusion; but, speaking as it were for the last time in such a place of public authority, I appeal to the sound Christian sense of this venerable Assembly to take some proper measures to ascertain what it is that divides us and what is required for the abatement of strife and the reconciliation of parties at variance."

Promptly at 3 o clock the General Assembly was formally constituted by stated Clerk Roberts, Mouerator Booth being in the chair, and the business of the sessions began.

The first attention was given to the election of Moderator, and nominations for that office were declared to be in order. The Rey, Dr. Thomas H. Cleland of Duluth presented the name of Francis C. Monford, D. D., L. L. D., of Cincinnati, and Col. Alexander P. Ketchum of New York seconded the nomination. The Rey, Dr. Wm. H. Hubbard of Auburn, N. Y., nominated David B. Breed, D. D., L. L. D., of Pittsburgh, and Senator S. J. R. McMillen of Minnesota seconded this nomination.

B. Breed, D. D., LL. D., of Pittsburgh, and Senator S. J. R. McMillen of Minnesota seconded this nomination.

The Rev. Dr. John R. Davies of New York placed in nomination the name of John L. Withrow, D. D., LL. D. He described Dr. Withrow as sound in the faith, stanch in his defence of the Word of God, and loyal to the Government of the Church. He declared that Dr. Withrow believed in the power of the General Assembly to control the theological seminaries and the presbyteries. "I have had this word repeatedly from Dr. Withrow," said Dr. Davies, "in private conferences, and I would not stand here to nominate him if I did not know his mind on these anbjects."

The Rev. Dr. William P. Kane of Bloomington, Ill., one of the leading liberals of the West, seconded the nomination of Dr. Withrow. The Rev. Dr. Villeroy D. Reed of Philadelphia also seconded Dr. Withrow's nomination.

The nominations were declared closed with the presentation of these three names. The balloting, which began at 4:20 o'close, resulted in the election of Dr. Withrow by a large majority, the vote being: Withrow by a large majority, Monfort, 84.

At the call of the roll for votes for Mederator. Dr. Roeth's name being reached with those of the New York delegation, he announced that he desired not to vote for either candidate. Dr. Booth, after announcing this decision, appointed a committee to escort the Moderator-elect to the plainform. After the customary exchange of greetings the new Moderator called for the report of the local Committee of Arrangements. A gavel made of wood taken from the field of Burgoyne's surrender was presented to the Moderator as coming from the local chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution. The Daughters were present in regalla, and they arose in the gallery at the time of the presentation.

The customary temporary organization was then perfected, and the Assembly adjourned. To-night the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered in the church to all the Com-missioners.

Aldermen Goodman and Windolph appeared before the Dock Board yesterday and once more asked the Board to establish a roof garden for the benefit of the poor on the pier at the foot of East 117th street. It is now a year since the Board of Aldermen first asked for this, and they have been unable to get a satisfactory reply. Commissioner Einstein told them yesterday that the Dock Board was willing to do the work providing the consent of the firms which use the pier could be obtained. These firms protested against the crection of the roof garden on the ground that it would prevent the use of the pier for business purposes, which, as there were no available viers nearer than 110th and 125th streets, would be a serious matter for them. Mr. tisedman explained that the proposed roof garden would consist of a platform supported on uprights and so high that business would not be interfered with.

Mr. Einstein told the Aldermen that if they rould ascere the consent of the firms that use the pier it would be all right. Mr. Goodman said he would do so. work providing the consent of the firms which Q.—Was there not an understanding that you were to have the property back 7 A.—No.

Q.—When did you first become a member of the firm of L. Waterbury & Co.? A.—When I left college in 1874.
Q.—What interes did your father give you in the firm? A.—A on eighth share.
Subsequently Mr. Waterbury purchased one-sletch more.

Subsequently Mr. Waterbury purchased one-eighth more.
Q.—What was the value of your father's estate? A.—One million dollars.
Q.—You received how much? A.—One-quarter interest.
Q.—In a deed of May 5, 1893, you conveyed property to your wife in consideration of love and affection and five dollars. Did you get the five dollars? A.—My best impression is that I did.

Mr. Marks then asked about the consideration in each deed. Mr. Waterbury answered that in all cases he received the purchase price from his wife, except in the deed of May 5, 1893, which conveyed the Westchester house. This property he gave to his wife as a birthday assession.

Yes.
The land-was subject to a mortgage of $20,000.
"What was the consideration for which L.
Waterbury & Co. transferred all its property in 1801 to the National Cordage Company?"
Mr. Waterbury could not answer it at first, and Mr. Marks said: "Was it for stock?"
"I believe we transferred the real estate for a consideration of $1,500,000, none of it in stock."
Mr. Marks asked Mr. Waterbury what was the empideration paid by his wife for another plot of land in Brooklyn. He repiled that the firm of L. Waterbury & Co. owed his wife $50,000, and she took the land in payment.
Q.—Can you explain how it was that the deed for this land was not recorded until the very day, or the day before, the plaintiff's judgment was entered against you? A.—I cannot.
Mr. Waterbury testified that the list of property furnished by him as conveyed to his wife included all the real estate left by her father in which he was interested, and included all property conveyed by him personally to his wife.
The examination was adjourned until May 20,

RAPE OF THE CHICKEN COOP.

John Schebler's Hurgiar Alarm Works Like a Charm.

The chicken coop of John Schebler in the rear f his house at 78 Humboldt street, Williamsburgh, was robbed twice last week. He reported his loss to the police and then attached a piece of wire to the door of the coop and consected it with a bell in his bedroom. It was so arranged that when the coop door was opened the bell would jingle. At 1 o'clock yesterday morning he was awakened by the sound of the morning he was awakened by the sound of the bell. He opened his bedroom window and heard a commotion in the coop. He took a revolver and went into the yard. A homeless man, who proved to be John Keenan, 28 years old, was in the coop. He had a bag into which he had already put four chickens. After threatening the burglar with death if he stirred, Schebler locked the door of the coop and went after a policeman. Keenan was arreated and taken to the Starg street station, where he said it was his first attempt at burglary. He pleaded gailty to the charge in the Ewen Street Police Court yesterday and Justice Lemon held him for the Grand Jury, Keenan got into Schebler's yer! by climbing three fences.

KILLED BY FALLING WALLS THREE DEAD AND A DOSEN OTHERS

MORE OR LESS INJURED.

Collapse of Brown Bros. & Co.'s Building is Bufalo - Workmen and Tenants Barried in the Buins - All Except Three Resented Alive - A Girl Cashler Among the Bond, BUFFALO, May 21. - A part of the Seneca street front of Brown's building collapsed at 0:25 this morning, burying a score of people in the ruins. George Metz, a barber, and Jennie Griffith, cashier in the barber shop, are dead; William P. Straub, a contractor, is known to be in the ruins, and a dozen others are more or less in-jured, one of whom will probably die. Those at the hospitals are:

Jacon Lazupon, barber, scalp torn and body con WILLIAM ALEXANDER, steam fitter, scalp wounds and

JACOB RICKMAN, barber, injured about head and B. L. HAWKE, carpenter, skull fractured; may die.

JAMES ADAMS, Mason, 78 Chandler street, scalp wounds and injured hip. MICHAEL O'BRIEN, carpenter, wrenched back and JOSEPH BULLARD, plasterer, injured internally, EDWARD MURPHY, plasterer, right arm injured. FRITE FORMAL, German laborer, badly bruised.

Brown's building is one of the city's landmarks. It stood on the corner of Main and Seneca streets, and for years the Western Union Telegraph Company had occupied the ground floor co ner as a business office and all of the fourth floor as an operating room. The building was filled with offices, many of which were occupied, and on the ground floor, on both Main and Seneca streets, were stores occupied by merchants. The Western Union left the building a few weeks ago, and the owners of the block began the work of remodelling and strengthening it. On the Seneca street side workmen were putting in place new columns and beams and new foundations for them.

Nos. 8 and 10 Seneca street were unoccupied the principal alterations being made at that point. No. 12 was occupied as a barber shop by point. No. 12 was occupied as a barber shop by George Scinert, and 14 by James Clegg's jewelry store and Thomas Jones's newsstand. The offices on the floors above were nearly all tenanted, and altogether there were probably fifty people in the collapsed section. There was no warning of falling plaster or creaking timbers. The walls fell with a crash, taking down roof and ceiling with them. The outer wall fell into the street, burying those who had not had time to escape.

walls fell with a crash, taking down roof and ceiling with them. The outer wall fell into the street, burying those who had not had time to escape.

The Fire Department was called, and with the police and workmen, who came rushing to the railen building, the wors of rescue was begun. Some of the people who had been in the building were saved aimost miraculously, having been penned in by the falling timbers and walls. They were taken out as speedily as possible.

In Seinert's barber shop were nine barbers, the girl cashler, and several customers. When the crash occurred all made a rush for the front door, but the falling bricks drove them to the rear, where an alley leads to Washington street. Those in front rushed into the alley, only to be met by the falling rear walls, under which Metz was buried and killed. The others crouched in a corner of the shop until the crash ceased, when they made their way out. The cashler had her desk in the front of the shop, behind a wire cage. She was unable to get out off in time to join the others, and perished beneath the fallen wall.

The experience of the occupants of No. 14 was somewhat similar to that of those in the barber shop, but all escaped without in 'ary.

In Nos. 8 and 10 were probably twent, workmen, including steamfitters, fronworkers, carpenters, and plasterers, and it was here that the crash was greatest. Nearly all of the men were caught in the falling walls and floors and buried in the ruins. The tenants on the upper floors had many narrow escapes, but, so far as known, all of them escaped.

At 10 o'clock the rescuers removed a heavy timber and Robert Cassler, 18 years of age, brother of the contracting steamfitter, crawied out uninjured. Half an hour later the weekers uncovered the foot of one man and then the arms of another. The faces of both were completely hidden by the great piles of brick, moriar and timber that lay heaped upon them. They were Edward Murphy and Joseph Builard. They were Edward Murphy and Joseph Builard. They were Edward Murphy and Jos earlier in the day. Straub's body has not yet been found.

11The Commissioners of Public Works will make a thorough investigation of the accident. A permit was issued for the alterations on April 2, with the warning that the utmost care must be used, as the building was such an old structure. It is owned by Brown Bros. & Co., the New York bankers. A determined effort will be made to fix the responsibility for the disaster, which is said to be due to criminal negligence.

that the contractors are to blame. Early this morning they knocked out the supports in the cellar, thus practically removing the foundation of the building. The store fronts had been removed to be replaced with cast-iron fronts. The entire weight of the front wall rested on a single fron pillar, the bottom of which rested on the sidewalk. The sidewalk was supported by small crumbling pillars unable to withstand great weight. When the wall supports in the basement were knocked away the weight of the front was thrown onto the single pillar in the centre. The sidewalk fell beneath its weight, and the crash followed without an instant's warning. The walls of the structure still standing are bulged to an extent which makes another collapse not improbable.

CARPET T. M. STEWART

SERGEANT M'CORMICK'S SHAVE. It Causes His Trial for Making a Palse

Entry on the Blotter, Sergeant Thomas McCormick of the Leonard street squad was placed on trial before Commissioners Parker and Grant last evening for having made an entry in the police blotter on March 9 setting forth that he had gone out on patrol duty, when in reality he was in his bedroom in the station house. Capt. Cross, who preferred the charge against McCormick, found him there partly undressed an hour after the entry had been made. McCormick is known in the department as the Terror," on account of the number of complaints he has preferred against the men under his command, and when his trial was called a myb of patrolmen in citizen's dress crowded into the court room to hear the case. Lawyer Miss.<sup>7</sup>, Graub, who appeared for McCormick, asked Capt. Cross whether McCormick was not about to shave himself, and on the Captain admitting that that might have been so, the lawyer wanted to know whether he would not have violated a rule of the department by going unshaven upon patrol.

The patrolmen in the body of the court laughed derisively when the question was put and the Captain answered:

"I hardly think that to patrol with a beard of a day's growth would have been 'appearing unomplaints he has preferred against the men a day's growth would have been appearing unshaven and uncleanly. In the sense implied in the department rules."

In his defence McCormick testified that he was shaving himself when the Captain came into the room. Decision on the case was reserved.

BALTIMORE AND ORIO.

The Issue of Receivers' and Car Trust Certificates Authorized. BALTIMORE, May 21 .- Judges Goff and Morris in the United States Circuit Court to-day heard the application of Receivers Cowen and Murray of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company to issue receivers' certificates to the amount of $5,000,000 to provide funds for paying various debts and for improvements of the roadbed.

At the same time the court was asked to sane tion the issue of $3,400,000 car trust certificates which have already been partly negotiated, the proceeds of which are to be applied to the pur-chase of 5,000 new freight cars and seventychass of 5,000 new freight cars and seventyfive locomotives.

evening, but whether the case will be opened to-day depends upon the result of a conference held between the counsel and the Recorder last evening. Several of the jurors are anxious to be excused on account of business and other cares, and have presented applications to the Recorder. The sixth juror, C. C. Haight, the architect, declares that his enforced absence from his work will keep several thousand men idle and retard work on a number of buildings which he is making place for, and the eleventh juror, Edward H. Friedrich, suddenly discovered yesterday that he is exempt from jury service because he is a National Guardsman. Both these jurors have been sworn, however after proving their competency, and the quesafter proving their competency, and the question now is will the Court be violating the constitutional right of the defendant by excusing either one on these pleas. The law says that a statutory right of the detendant cannot be waived, and this is the predicament the Court and jurors are in.

If the Recorder after consultation with the counsel does not see fit to excuse any of the jurymen the following men will act as the jury: Foreman-Charles B. Poor, manager at 44 Reaver street, of 305 Manhattan avenue.

2-David S. Rotaling, real estate broker at 95 Broadway, of 479 Washington avenue.

3-Charles Sam, shoes, at 2,264 Third avenue, of 707 Tremont avenue.

HARD FOR JERSEY POOL SELLERS. Mansfield Sentenced to One Year at Hard Labor and 8500 Fine and Costs.

He said that Mansfield had carried on his dis-reputable business persistently in defiance of the courts. In charges to Grand Juries and at other times his place had been designated par-ticularly, and he had received many warnings, Judge Hudspeth said the Court felt sorry for Mansfield, as he once stood high in the commu-nity and had many friends, but the law must be enforced. He then sentenced Mansfield to one year at hard lator in State prison and a fine of $500 and costs. Notice of an appeal was given and bail was fixed at $3,000. Mansfield was taken to the county jail, and bad not secured a bondsman up to a late hour last night.

Judge Hudspeth scored him severely. He said that Mansfield had carried on his dis-complaint of his wife, Inez d'Homergue, who complaint of his wife, Inez d'Homergue, who accused him of having assaulted her during a game of hearis at their home, in Clinton street, a few nights ago. Mrs. d'Homergue was not on hand, but her lawver appeared for her and made this explanation:

"My client desires to withdraw this complaint because Dr. d'Homergue has made an ample apology. The couple will now proceed to have a legral separation."

Justice Waish dismissed the complaint.
